Full Stack Web Developer

CAREER OBJECTIVE

As a recent software engineering graduate from Luminus Technical University College, I bring hands-on experience in web development acquired through a comprehensive training program at Orange Programming Coding Academy, where I completed 900 hours of technical training and 100 hours of soft skills development. I possess fundamental skills in web page development and a proven ability to apply technical knowledge in HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, C#, ASP.NET MVC 5, SQL Server, ASP.NET Core API, Angular, and TypeScript in practical and real-world contexts. My experience includes internships and academic projects that demonstrate strong problem-solving and analytical thinking abilities, alongside a deep understanding of policy and procedure standardization. I am adept at interpersonal communication and teamwork, honed through successful collaboration and leadership roles on various projects. I am eager to leverage my extensive academic training and internship experience in a Web Developer position.
