SUMMARY

I am a Computer Science graduate with a strong focus on Java and Spring Boot development, as well as Full Stack Web Development using the MERN stack. During my comprehensive training, I actively contributed to 12 projects, taking on diverse roles such as Scrum Master, Product Owner, QA, and Developer. These experiences not only deepened my technical skills but also enhanced my interpersonal and leadership abilities.

I have strong interpersonal and communication skills, developed through successful collaborations and leadership roles across various projects. I am eager to apply my academic training and hands-on experience in an entry-level IT role, where I can contribute effectively while continuously growing my expertise. I am also excited to keep learning, adapting to new technologies, and gaining practical experience in a dynamic work environment.
