Graduation project | Hoprovment

Briefly, the idea is that the customers can choose the craftsmen he wants between alternatives. Additionally, they can buy the materials they need from different stores in Amman to maintain their home. We learned a lot doing this project, and I have got a full mark with my partners on it.

Evaluating | Supreme Judge Department site

Browsed the site pages with my partner, checked its services, also identified the existing problems and bugs, which were presented to IT Department officials in the interview. Also, we proposed some recommendations to improve the site for user experience.
